'Death trap' road claims new victim

BY Raymond Brown

Schoolgirl found dying in ditch

A NOTORIOUS "road of death" has claimed another schoolgirl's life after she was found dying in a ditch.

Alice Westland, of Cardinals Green, Horseheath, died last Friday night close to the spot on the A1307 where 15-year-old Imogen Barker died last February.

The 16-year-old girl's mother rushed to the scene but she arrived after her beloved daughter had died, despite a battle to save her after she was hit by a car.

Her grief-stricken mother could only say a final goodbye to her daughter in the back of an ambulance.

The teenager was hit by a Peugeot 306 driven by a 37-year-old woman from Haverhill between Linton and Haverhill.

Police are investigating the collision, which happened just before 6.30pm.

Paramedics from Cambridge, a trauma specialist and a doctor fought to save the youngster's life.

Paramedic Bob Brothie, based at Cambridge's ambulance station, said: "We were called at 6.19pm and a crew had just passed the spot so they managed to get there in three minutes. When they arrived they found a 16-year-old girl in a ditch beside a parsley field.

"She was unconscious and the crew immediately started resuscitation attempts. They were then joined by a trauma specialist and a doctor who did all they could to save her but she died at the scene.

■ ANOTHER TRAGEDY . . . flowers have been laid at the spot near where Alice Westland, 16, died after being hit by a car on Friday.

"We brought her mother to the back of the ambulance to see her daughter who sadly was already dead.

"I treated the lady driver of the car who was shaken but uninjured.

"It is possible the young lady crossed the road after getting off a bus as happened to the girl who was previously killed at the same spot. Ambulance crews are often called to that road which is getting covered in flowers and tributes."

Last year Imogen Barker, a popular student at Linton Village College, died on the A1307 road as she got off a bus from Cambridge to return to her home in Parkway, Shudy Camps.

Her grieving father Roger Barker spoke to the Weekly News about the latest tragedy.

He said: "I just feel very sad for the family. I don't know the circumstances of what happened but we really feel for them and can sympathise with what they now have to go through.

"We would not want anyone to go through what we have. You never get over it.

Solo effort to help boost appeal total

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

MUSIC fans, runners and golfers are all joining the ranks of those supporting the Weekly News St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal this week.

Our appeal has already passed the £5,420 mark and the proceeds of a concert by Haverhill's professional orchestra, the Arnold Sinfonia, this weekend will help take it further towards the £40,000 target. The money will provide in-home hospice services for patients in the Haverhill area.

Highly-acclaimed Japanese clarinettist Anna Hashimoto will join conductor Kevin Hill for the concert, which starts at 7.30pm at Haverhill Arts Centre on Sunday.

The soloist made her Barbican Hall concerto debut at the age of 15 with the English Chamber Orchestra. She was the winner of the Parthenon Tama Prize earlier that year at the Japan Clarinet competition. In 2003 she won all three special prizes at the Japan Clarinet Society's Young Clarinettists competition.

Sunday's concert will feature Variations on a Theme and Serenade for Strings from Tchaikovsky, Romance from Sibelius and Malcolm Arnold's Clarinet Concerto No. 1.

All the proceeds from the concert will be donated to the appeal. Tickets cost £10 (concessions £6 and £2) and are available at the door or in advance from the Haverhill Arts Centre on (01440) 714140. For more details go to www.haverhillsinfonia.co.uk

Another major boost has come from the Haverhill Round Table, which announced this week that money raised from its annual fun run in July will be donated to the appeal.

Organisers are encouraging serious runners, along with teams from local companies and organisations, to get their running shoes out and raise sponsor money for the appeal. More details will follow in the weeks to come.

■ Proceeds from an annual golf tournament organised by Roger, landlord of the Swan pub at Clare, will also go towards the appeal.

Any golfers who would like to take part are welcome to join in. The event will be held at Haverhill Golf Club on Tuesday, May 15, with tee-off from 9am. It is open to individuals, pairs or teams of four.

The cost is £32.50 per person, including coffee and a bacon roll on arrival, 18 holes of golf, a buffet back at the Swan, plus a raffle and prize giving in the evening.

Entries can be handed over in the pub up until April 13, or ring (01787) 278030 to reserve a place.

How can you help?

WE CANNOT reach our target without your help – so the Weekly News wants to hear from anyone who is organising fund-raising discos, barbecues, dances or other events to boost the hospice appeal.

Tell us what you are planning and we will help publicise your event to make sure it is a success and raises as much money as possible.

If you already have an event organised, why not pledge all or part of the proceeds to the appeal and benefit from the extra publicity to help a really good cause.

A special bank account has been set up at Barclay's Bank. Cash or cheques can be paid in directly to the St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal, sort code 201612, account number 80981842.

An on-line donations page has also been created at www.justgiving.com/haverhill weeklynews, which also gives details of how to donate by text, and you can donate by phone on (01284) 715582, at the hospice shop in High Street, Haverhill, or the Weekly News office in Queen Street, Haverhill.

Parking win for worried residents

TESCO has told residents living near its planned superstore on Haverhill's Station Yard site that they will be provided with parking spaces.

Many had feared they would have nowhere to park once the store was built.

Residents of the Pightle, whose homes are in front of the site, where building work is due to start later this year, have now been told officially that parking spaces will be provided for them.

They launched a campaign, backed by MP Richard Spring, earlier this year after learning that plans for the store only included parking spaces to the rear of number 1-10 The Pightle.

Now they have been told by St Edmundsbury Borough Council that the parking area will be made available to all properties in the Pightle, with management passed to the Pightle Residents' Association.

June Bradford, who was one of those concerned about parking, said: "We are very pleased and very grateful to Mr Spring and everyone who has helped us in this."

"There are several people who are elderly and have disabilities and we were very worried about this."

Get buzz on bumblebees

BUMBLEBEE expert Professor Ted Benton will speak at next Wednesday's meeting of the Suffolk Wildlife Trust's Haverhill branch.

The event will take place at the East Town Park visitors' centre in Coupsals Road at 7.45pm, and all are welcome, with entry £1.50.

Prof Benton has recently published a book on the subject. He is widely recognised as one of the best insect photographers and will illustrate his talk with some superb photographs.

Chocolate surprise for lucky Kieran

FOUR-YEAR-OLD Kieran Frost had a hamper full of goodies to choose from after winning first prize in an Easter egg hunt competition at his local supermarket. Kieran, of Raine Avenue, Haverhill, went along to Sainsbury's to pick up his prize of a Cadbury's hamper, handed over by store duty manager Mark Leighton. Kieran was the champion Easter "scavenger" and was presented with his treasure after following the clues in the store to answer the quiz questions. Mum Kirsty said: "He really enjoyed taking part and can't wait to tuck into his prize."

Mr Leighton, said: "I am delighted to present Kieran with his hamper. It was a very enjoyable event and children from Haverhill had an absolutely fabulous time participating. We even had a few big kids joining in the fun."

Slimmers help keep fire crew fighting fit

FIREFIGHTERS paid a visit to a slimming club to get healthy eating tips and handed out some fire prevention advice in return. Crew from Haverhill fire station attended an open day at the Slimming World Club held at the Mount Pleasant Club in Withersfield Road, Haverhill. Their station chef went along with other crew members, including female firefighter Shelley, who has lost two stone already at the club.

Leader Julie Collis passed on some tips on low "sin" recipes which she said would help keep everyone trim at the fire station.

She said: "It is important for them to keep fit and healthy, so we were happy to help."

"They also brought along the fire engine and reminded us to check the batteries in our smoke detectors every week."

"They also told us that they will visit and do free fire safety inspections."

'Hotspot' for 21st Century

A CHAMPAGNE reception was held this week to launch Haverhill's new identity as a business destination for the 21st Century.

Haverhill Enterprise organised the Focus on Haverhill event at the headquarters of biotech giant, Genzyme. Government officials, senior members and officers from St Edmundsbury Borough Council, Suffolk County Council, the East of England Development Agency, East of England International and the Greater Cambridge Partnership were among the guests.

Richard Herbert, chairman of Haverhill Enterprise, said the initiative had been designed to promote the town's growing status as an economic powerhouse and show how it is fast becoming one of the East of England's leading business and investment hotspots.

Mr Herbert said: "Haverhill is a great location for business."

"It has a high-calibre workforce and a long history of enterprise from manufacturing through to biotechnology."

Yobs get revenge

YOBS are thought to have broken a man's car window after he refused to give them a glass of water.

The incident happened in Meadow-sweet Close, Haverhill, between 11.35pm and 11.45pm last Friday. Ten minutes after the two youths left, the householder discovered a window had been smashed in his Peugeot 306 parked outside.

Both youths who asked for the water were white. One was 6ft and of slim build, wearing a camouflage jacket.

The second youth was riding a small bike. Three other youths who were with them were wearing black clothing.

Death sparks another plea for A1307 action

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

TWO lobby groups set up to fight for improvements on the A1307 have called for work on the "road of death" to be fast-tracked following last week's tragedy.

Ester Cornell, chairman of the Access 1307 action group, said they were appalled by the latest tragedy, but pleased something was at last to be done about the junction.

She said: "Our thoughts are with the family at this time as well as the pupils of Linton Village College who again have to come to terms with the loss of one of their friends."

"The fact that within six months there will be a right hand turn and pedestrian refuge in this area makes this accident more tragic."

"However, this just shows the reality of reactive road improvements. Problems for the communities around the A1307 have increased with the growth of Haverhill."

"A recent planning application in Haverhill involved an increase of 250 HGV's per day. The planning officers at Cambridgeshire County Council believe the road has the capacity to take these increases."

"We would like to know why they do not consider the community and the unacceptable risks that we have to take to cross or join the road - these risks are increasing with the growth of traffic."

Engineer Giuseppe Elia, from Haverhill, set up an online forum, www.A1307.com, in February to raise issues about the road and increase pressure for safety measures. He is disappointed that

'Red tape to blame for tragedy'

"We would like to send our condolences to the family as we can empathise with them. I feel so very sorry for them."

After Imogen's death, her sister Naomi Barker, 18, urged council chiefs to improve safety near the bus stop.

And East Cambridgeshire MP Jim Paice wrote to Cambridgeshire County Council demanding that cameras be installed as a matter of urgency, saying: "We cannot go on with this carnage."

Speaking this week he said: "Obviously every death is a tragedy and the fact that it appears to be a repeat of another recent death underlines the importance of doing something about that stretch of road, particularly after the somewhat heated discussions that I had with the then chief executive of the county council, Ian Stewart, at the time of the previous death and we still have not seen any action on this serious matter."

John Bridge, chief executive of Cambridgeshire Chambers of Commerce, said the tragedy could be laid at the door of road chiefs' "absurd" red tape. He said: "We see this everywhere regretfully. In all their schemes it all comes down to the money. They look at the information historically to decide what to spend which is absolutely absurd because it means that we have to wait for people to be injured or maimed or even killed before anything is done."

"All we get is delays and vacillation. I just hope that the people responsible for these decisions understand what non-action can mean."

Road safety campaign group Brake has called for immediate action and said lives could be saved if the speed limit on the 60mph road was reduced.

A spokeswoman said: "Something as simple as a sign saying there is a bus stop there or a reduction in the speed limit could prevent these tragedies."

"This is a timely reminder that even if the speed limit is 50 or 60mph, if you don't know the road it is OK to slow right down."

Richard Spring, MP for West Suffolk, called for the Government to end the carnage.

He said: "It is absolutely heartbreaking that another teenager has lost her life on this treacherous road. Until the Government stumps up the cash to improve the region's roads then the carnage on the A1307 will continue."

"It is utterly tragic and I'm heartbroken for the family who have lost a child in such a terrible way. But there will be more heartbreak for more families unless action is taken. Cambridgeshire County Council needs to lobby the Government for more money because the county is horrifically underfunded."

Caroline Derbyshire, principal at Linton Village College, took time out from her holiday in the Lake District to pay tribute to Alice. She said: "We are in a state of great sorrow and huge outrage."

"Sorrow because we have lost one of our own: a bright, caring, adventurous young woman who had a brilliant future ahead of her and outrage that yet again the A1307 has claimed the life of a wonderful young person. Something must be done - it's a death trap. "Our thoughts and prayers are with Alice's family and close friends."

he is yet to receive responses from local councils and police regarding issues raised on the site.

Mr Elia, 27, works at Genzyme and has lived in the town for just over a year; previously commuting to the town from Peterborough via the A1307.

Mr Elia said: "Since I have lived in Haverhill, I find it shocking how little has been done to improve the road to prevent reoccurrences of such tragic events. Travelling along the road can be a constant reminder of how frail life can be."

Chris Cullum, a former Haverhill town councillor and campaigner for improvements to the A1307, wants average speed cameras to be installed on the road.

He said: "The carnage and loss of life on this road has got to stop. The use of safety partnership cameras is a joke, people know where they are and just slow down at that point. The only way to reduce people's speed and change their driving habits is to install average speed cameras."

"It is time that the county council did something fast. They blame lack of money, but how much money is it costing every time there is an accident?"

Six people died on the A1307 last year. The road has been put at the top of the list for improvements by Cambridgeshire County Council, with the Park Hill and Horseheath Green junction due for a £200,000 scheme to provide a right-turn lane, pedestrian refuge in the centre of the road and better road markings, this summer.

Artistic idea for planners

REVISED plans for a new art block at Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College in Chalkstone Way, Haverhill, have been submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council. The school has a particularly strong art department and pupils have created sculptures in the school grounds which have won them a place in a national directory of works of art.

Proposal goes underground

PLANS for alterations associated with the change of use of the basement to four houses, lobby entrances to the rear and dormer windows at 89, 91, 93 and 95 High Street, Haverhill, have been submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

Stylists are a cut above all the rest

TWO young hairdressers from Haverhill made their mark at the recent West Suffolk College Festival of Hair and Beauty at West Suffolk College. Jade Nicholas, 19, and Sam McGlue, 17, who both work at Sonia's salon in Queen Street, Haverhill, were taking part in the NVQ2 Level 1 category called Vertical Challenge. Jade, of Withersfield Road, won first place and Sam, of Roman Way, was third. Jade's model wore an outfit made up of bin bags and Sainsbury's carrier bags and Sam's model was dressed as a mermaid. Both had just 35 minutes to complete the French pleat hairstyle. Sonia, who runs the salon, said: "The makeup was absolutely fantastic, their models had a really off-beat look."

Plan to protect special spots

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

VIEWS are being sought on how to protect the special nature of conservation areas in Clare and Haverhill.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council is asking for people's views on three draft documents which have been drafted as character appraisals and management plans for the Clare conservation area and the Hamlet Road and Queen Street conservation areas in Haverhill.

The documents have been drawn up in line with English Heritage guidelines to identify the characteristics which make the conservation areas special places worth protecting. They will also be used to help guide future development.

Residents can view the draft documents at the council's offices in Western Way and Angel Hill, Bury St Edmunds, and Lower Downs Slade in Haverhill, the libraries in High Street, Clare, and Camps Road, Haverhill, and on St Edmundsbury's website.

Anyone who has any questions about them can also go along to drop-in sessions on Monday, April 14, in the Town Hall, Market Hill, Clare, and Friday, April 18, in the foyer of the Council Office in Lower Downs Slade, Haverhill.

The council's conservation officers will be on hand to talk about the appraisals and answer any queries between noon and 7pm on both days.

The consultation runs until Monday, April 28.

Anyone wishing to comment in writing should send their views to the Conservation Team, Environment Directorate, St Edmundsbury Borough Council, Western Way, Bury St Edmunds, IP33 3YS, or email chris.leveson@stedsbcc.gov.uk

All of the comments received will be summarised and reported to a future council meeting, before St Edmundsbury adopts the amended documents as planning guidance.

Volunteers dig in to create nature haven

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A VOLUNTARY project to create a new wildlife site in Haverhill for schools and local groups to enjoy has been given a financial boost by West Suffolk landlord Havebury Housing Partnership.

The Go Wild project, run by the Haverhill Volunteer Centre in partnership with East Town Park Rangers, is calling for volunteers of all ages and abilities to help clear an allotment area in Manor Road to create the wildlife haven.

The finished site will be open for local schools and groups to learn about nature.

Havebury's Community Investment Fund provided a £1,500 grant towards the £4,500 initiative, which will be used to purchase signage for the new site. Further cash was obtained from Havebury's Tenants' Forum and a local firm.

Plans for the new wildlife site include a nature trail, small pond and seating, some of which will be made by the volunteers from wood and other natural materials.

An existing fox burrow will be preserved together with plant life, insects and small animals that naturally live in the habitat. Work begins on the project in late April with completion expected by the end of the year.

Elaine Hewes, Volunteer Co-ordinator at Haverhill Volunteer Centre, said: "We are very grateful for the financial help Havebury has provided to get this valuable project off the ground. We are looking for volunteers to work over 10 separate days throughout the year to create the wildlife area which will be enjoyed by many."

Havebury's latest funding for the Haverhill Volunteer Centre follows a £2,200 grant in 2006 to help improve East Town Park.

Since Havebury's Community Investment Fund was set up in 2002, a total of £298,061 has been awarded in grants to support 120 community projects.

Anyone who would like to get involved with the Go Wild project should contact the Haverhill Volunteer Centre on (01440) 708444 or info@hvc.org.uk

Lifetime honours for guild's 'golden girls'

TWO Townswomen's Guild members with 100 years of service between them have been honoured by their group. Betty Jennings and Barbara Thompson have both been members of the Haverhill Townswomen's Guild group for 50 years – having joined only two years after it formed. Betty was presented with her badge by retiring chairman Norma Poole at the group's last meeting, as well as a certificate from the TWG national chairman.

Barbara was unwell and unable to attend, but will receive her presentation at the next meeting.

Betty, who was president of the group for several years, has also been made a life president, and Barbara a life vice-president.

Norma Poole, also a long-standing member of the group, said members were very proud of the two long-serving members. She said: "To have been members for 50 years is brilliant. Since I joined I have made so many friends, it is a very nice organisation to belong to. We have 33 members at present. We have had quite a few new members this year, but more are always welcome."

The group meets on the fourth Tuesday of each month at the West End Church Hall in Withersfield Road at 7.15pm, with a speaker most months, as well as a handicraft group and other social activities.

Anyone interested in joining can go along on the night or call new chairman Peta Reed on (01440) 704265.

Mayors say 'allo allo' to French fair

TWO mayors will officially open a bustling French market as it returns for the third year this weekend.

Mayor of St Edmundsbury Cllr Margaret Charlesworth and Cllr Elaine McManus, deputy mayor of Haverhill, will officially open Haverhill's three-day continental market at 11am on Friday.

Residents in Haverhill will get the chance to sample a taste of the continent when the hugely popular market sets up more than 30 brightly coloured stalls to line Queens Street on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, selling fine foods, bags, luxury cosmetics and traditional craft products.

The continental stalls will complement the town's regular Friday and Saturday market, which will be held as usual in the Market Square.

Then, on Saturday and Sunday, the square will host children's rides and entertainments, while an ice cream van will also be on hand.

Cllr Nigel Aitkens, St Edmundsbury Cabinet member for Haverhill, said: "Previous continental markets have exceeded all expectations – but this year promises to be bigger and better than ever before. This year we have added extra entertainments over the weekend, and hope that even more people come along to soak up the atmosphere and see what Haverhill has to offer."

Stalls open from 9am to 6pm on Friday and Saturday and 10am to 4pm on Sunday.

£21,000 benefits cheat spared jail

A MOTHER of five who claimed benefit without declaring savings of more than £40,000 has been spared jail.

Jacqueline Macnamara, 57, denied four charges of making a false statement to obtain benefit but was found guilty after a trial at a hearing earlier this month.

Her case was adjourned for sentencing at Bury St Edmunds Magistrates Court last Thursday, with the original bench warning her that all options were open, including prison.

However, magistrates imposed a conditional discharge for two years and told her to pay £50 costs.

Macnamara of Paske Avenue, Haverhill, had claimed that although the money was in her name, invested in National Savings accounts and bonds, it actually belonged to her children – now in their 30s – and included cash they had earned from paper rounds and other jobs as well as some that they had inherited.

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

At her trial she told the court that her husband, Michael, was a gambler, with a temper, who had no knowledge of the cash. Two of her children confirmed this.

At the sentencing hearing, Malcolm Plummer, prosecuting said all £21,500 of housing and Council Tax benefit overpaid to the Macnamara family over a number of years had been repaid in full.

Nicholas Wray, mitigating, said his client had not intended to be dishonest, but did not declare the cash because it was not hers, although it was in her name.

The family had no previous criminal history and she was very remorseful about the offence.

He said: "Her husband is suffering from a grave illness and there has been a real cost to her and her family in the stigma attached to the case.

"The cost to them physically and emotionally has been immense. They have no savings at all and live a very quiet, self-contained life. She is a very caring, contrite woman who is very unlikely ever to come to court again."

Chairman Mary Crane said they decided against jail because of mitigating features in her case, the fact the money had been repaid, the length of time the case had been hanging over the defendant and the very low risk of her offending again.

First aid first – not posh flats

Sir, You have asked for our views on the issue of health provision in Haverhill – in particular the new clinic provision being suggested.

A few years ago the Labour Government conducted long consultations with the nation's doctors and came to the conclusion that their money should be increased and their hours decreased.

They agreed to this and changed the regulations regarding out-of-hours services, in that they took that responsibility away from the doctors and gave it to the PCT.

What is being proposed for the North Suffolk PCT area is a walk-in facility that can handle minor emergencies and problems from people, 12 hours a day, every day of the week. Unfortunately, there is no money to provide this in addition to the existing services, so some services will be transferred and the existing medical practices have had their funding cut.

If we do not welcome this additional service to Haverhill then, yet again, Bury St Edmunds will get the services and we will then hear wails of complaint that Haverhill gets nothing whilst Bury gets everything – oh, and the funding to the doctors' practices will be cut anyway.

I do feel for anyone or any organisation that has its funding cut, believe me, I know what that feels like. However, I cannot see how Haverhill residents can have this extra provision unless we accept this upgrade to our clinic in Camps Road.

Furthermore, I worry as to what will happen to the clinic should we not accept this offer... yet more posh flats perhaps?

Burglars flee with games

THIEVES who stole cash, Playstation and Xbox games in a burglary at Haverhill may have been disturbed by the occupants returning home.

The break-in, by forcing a front window, happened at Sterling Drive, Haverhill, between 1.30pm and 9.10pm on Sunday, March 30.

A search had been carried out of the house and other items were found outside.

It is believed the offenders left through a rear window, and a security light in the back garden was still on when the occupants returned to their property at 9.10pm.

A female was seen outside the house at the time of the burglary and police want to speak to her as she may hold important information about this crime.

She is described as white, in her early 20s, 5 ft tall, of slim build with dark hair tied back and a large face, and was wearing a dark grey duffle coat with the hood up.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Dc Paul Cappleman at Haverhill CID on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

MEMBERS gathered for what was considered to be a critical meeting of the Haverhill branch of the University of the Third Age at the Arts Centre.

Although five officers and committee members were to retire and another vacancy already needed filling, members had proved reluctant to put their names forward for office.

The retiring chairman, Aldine Horrigan, voiced a warm welcome to a large turnout of members and in her third annual report announced that membership of the branch was now 250, an increase of more than 22 since last year. Her thanks for a successful year were extended to all the officers and the committee.

Mrs Horrigan's report centred on various activities of the branch, including the enjoyable Christmas Party, enrolment day and the AGM.

For the Christmas event, an entrance by ticket only had to be introduced due to restraints having to be introduced by the Arts Centre in line with the Health and Safety Act. This has also led to the sign-in procedure at meetings.

Group leaders' meetings

End of term tea party for retiring teacher

PUPILS and staff said goodbye to teacher Rita Lindsell, pictured centre, who retired after more than 20 years teaching at a primary school. A tea party was recently held at Westfield Primary School in Haverhill and then gifts were presented to Mrs Lindsell in assembly on the last day of the term.

are held twice a year as a means of finding out how groups are managing and discussing any problems that might arise. The group leaders are most important to the organisation, with their commitment to the activities, and in opening their homes for meetings. The new member meetings have also been most helpful, allowing the organisation to do its utmost in making new members feel welcome. Thanks were expressed to Joan Cole for her hard work in producing the monthly News and Views for a number of years and to honorary member Fred Phillips for press reports. The branch has continued to support the Autumn Academy which is also supported by Universities of the Third Age from all over Suffolk, providing an insight into how other branches operate – with the last meeting being attended by more than 200 members.

Throughout the last three years, the branch's drama group has taken the Christmas show to many local villages in the area.

In his report, treasurer David Pearce presented a most satisfactory balance sheet and was able to announce that an increase in the annual subscription was not being recommended and thanks were extended to Haverhill Town Council for its donation to the funds. In the election of officers for the coming year, Jan Howley agreed to serve as chairman and other vacancies were filled.

The meeting concluded with an enjoyable presentation by Les Wood and four volunteers, of A One Word Play.

Kedington

With the daylight hours lengthening and a record number of walkers supporting the January walk, Kedington Footpath and Hedge Group is organising its first all-day walk on Sunday, April 6, with a visit to the Denham and Dalham area. Meet at Kedington Community Centre at 10.30am with packed lunches and drive to Denham, parking outside the church.

The walk begins along one side of a valley and then down into Dalham, where ramblers make for the Affleck Arms. The pub only serves hot meals on Sundays, but the group is welcome to buy drinks and sit and eat its packed lunches. The group will then take a winding path past the hall, leading to its next objective – Denham Castle. Only the earthworks remain, but they are quite impressive, and the history of the building is available onsite.

From there, a short walk leads back into Denham Village. In all, the walk will cover around six to seven miles. For more details call John Swan on (01440) 708690.

MP cuts ribbon on new farmers' market

A NEW Farmers' Market has been officially opened by Essex MP Sir Alan Haselhurst.

The event was at Steeple Bumpstead Village Hall and will take place in future on the fourth Saturday of each month.

It was started by Dee Robertson and Chris Teale, who felt there would be a demand for the range of produce and other goods on offer in the village.

Anyone interested in taking part should contact Chris on (01440) 730326.

Workshops will build future plan

RESIDENTS are invited to special workshops designed to give them the chance to help shape the borough's future growth over the next 20 years.

The evening sessions – one to be held in Haverhill and another in Bury St Edmunds – will give people the chance to discuss the Local Development Framework (LDF), which will eventually set out the distribution of 7,500 new homes and jobs to go with them.

St Edmundsbury is currently carrying out a consultation on five different options for future growth, which will all be discussed at the workshops.

These options are to concentrate the new development in the borough's main towns and larger villages; to avoid rural areas and to focus on towns – which would expand

Haverhill into the county's fourth largest town; or to build a freestanding new settlement of at least 3,000 homes, which will also provide new jobs, services and community facilities.

Combinations of these options or any other ideas people may have will also be discussed at the workshops, which take place from 7-9pm on Wednesday, April 9, in Bury St Edmunds and from 7-9pm on Monday, April 14, in Haverhill.

Anyone who wants to come to a workshop will need to book their place by phoning (01284) 757368 during office hours.

To view and comment on the LDF through the council's website, visit www.stedmundsbury.gov.uk by April 25.

Unitary council proposal goes under debate

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

COUNCILLORS will be asked to support a plan to create west and east Suffolk unitary authorities – single organisations which would deliver all council services.

Members of St Edmundsbury Borough Council will debate proposals to replace all existing district and county bodies at the full council meeting on Tuesday.

If they back the idea, it will be sent to the Boundary Committee, the national independent body which is looking at the future shape of local government in Suffolk and Norfolk.

A so-called concept statement sets out the reasons for a unitary authority covering West Suffolk, based in Bury St Edmunds, instead of one large unitary body covering the whole of Suffolk. It states such a body would be large enough to make significant financial savings but small enough to keep close ties with the community.

Cllr John Griffiths, St Edmundsbury Borough Council leader, said: "I believe a unitary covering West Suffolk would be big enough to work, but small enough to connect with, and be accessible to, the people we serve. West Suffolk has a unique identity and we don't want residents in this part of the county losing out to giant bodies taking decisions which affect us from miles away."

"One council providing all the services in the area is a good idea – but let's make sure that we get what's best for the west, as well as Suffolk as a whole, when it comes to providing top quality services more cost effectively and based on priorities which Council Tax payers in this part of the county identify for themselves."

The Boundary Committee for England has been asked by the Government to review the structure of local government in Suffolk and Norfolk. Keeping the structure the same is not an option being explored.

Close working between councils is already operating in West Suffolk, with both St Edmundsbury Borough and Suffolk County councils set to move into one building, West Suffolk House, on the Public Service Village site in Bury St Edmunds.

The concept statement said: "West Suffolk's present and future is around sustainability and meeting the demands of a fast-growing Cambridge economy."

"Delivering services to a population of around 200,000 to 250,000 would enable West Suffolk to achieve significant economies of scale, without reducing the ability to keep high quality services which put customers first."

A draft of the full concept statement is available online at the district council's website at www.stedmundsbury.gov.uk

Man slashed wrists

A MAN left a pub in Haverhill on Wednesday and slashed his wrists with a razor.

Blood spurted two feet into the air as Robin Law refused to let anyone help him in an apparent suicide bid outside the Woolpack pub in Queen Street.

Police and paramedics rushed to the scene, where the bare-chested man was sedated, put in an ambulance and taken to hospital.

Shocked landlord Steve Currell said the 45-year-old, a regular customer, was thought to suffer from mental health problems. He had come into the pub at about 1.30pm, drunk three or four glasses of wine, then gone outside.

Mr Currell said: "He seemed in perfectly good humour and said nothing about what he was planning to do. He just went outside, took out a new razor blade and slashed his wrist."

"There was blood spitting everywhere and he would not accept any help."

"Hopefully, he will be OK," he added.

Some amazing facts about

HEDGEHUNTER: The hero of 2005 has found top-weight too much of a burden the last two years and is unlikely to be getting better. Put in a much-improved effort last time but is recommended more with heart than head. Rating (out of 10) 6. (odds: 25/1)

HI CLOY: Classy sort on his day but does most of his racing over two and a half miles. Aimed at the race for a while, this gelding is a solid jumper but unlikely to stay the trip. 4. (66/1)

KNOWHERE: Did not make it far round the course last year and jumping frailties appeared again in the Gold Cup. In better form this season but perhaps not one to trust whole-heartedly. 5. (50/1)

MR POINTMENT: Impressive winner of the Becher Chase at the course this winter but paid the price with the handicapper. Quite possible his top trainer will find more improvement but has to bounce back from a recent disappointment. 6. (16/1)

OLLIE MAGERN: Again failed to reproduce the form from his first run of the season in subsequent efforts. Possible he will give a bold showing from the front for a way, but unlikely to still be there at the finish. 3 (100/1)

TURKO: Useful young chaser who has a question of stamina to overcome but a decent showing is not inconceivable. 5. (33/1)

MADISON DU BERLAIS: His fourth to Gold Cup winner Denman at Newbury earlier this season looks good and he does seem to need a bit further these days. However, has not won for a while and hard to see it happening here. 4 (50/1)

SIMON: Going really well in this race a year ago until a luckless faller in the latter stages. In as good form as ever this season and while he has plenty of weight, must put in another sterling effort. 8 (14/1)

OPERA MUNDI: Not a bad sort and lightly-raced but has not made an impact when thrown into better quality events to date and cut little ice last time. 3 (66/1)

IRON MAN: Rose through the ranks in a couple of events last summer but has been pretty dismal in his last performances and it would be a major surprise to see him feature. 2 (66/1)

AMATEURS: Unlike the Derby, the Grand National often sees amateur riders taking on and beating the professionals. The big race was most recently won by a member of the unpaid ranks when journalist Marcus Armytage scored on Mr Frisk in 1990.

BECHER’S BROOK: The 1839 National gave us the legendary Becher’s Brook, jumped as the sixth and 22nd fence in the great race. Captain Martin Becher fell from his horse Conrad at the ditch and crawled into the brook to escape the rest of the field jumping on him.

He is reported to have said he never knew water tasted so foul without whisky in it. There have been many fallers at this notorious fence since then and in 1990 Becher’s Brook was straightened and the ditch partially filled in to make it safer.

DOUGLAS: Former British Lions rugby union international John Douglas won the Grand National as an owner in 1979. His 10-year-old Rubstic scored at 25-1 to give Scotland its one and only success in the race.

FAVOURITES: Rough Quest was the first winning favourite in 14 years when he scored at 7-1 in 1996 and market leader Earth Summit struck just two years later at the same odds. Golden Miller started the shortest-priced favourite ever in 1935 at 2-1 but failed to complete the course.

GREYS: Only two grey horses have ever won the Grand National in its 150-year history, The Lamb (1868 and 1871) and Nicolaus Silver (1961).

JOCKEYS: Carl Llewellyn is the only jockey still riding to have won the Grand National twice, on Party Politics (1992) and Earth Summit (1998).

LADY RIDERS: Charlotte Brew became the first woman to ride in the Grand National in 1977. Her mount Barony Fort refused at the fourth-last fence. Geraldine Rees was the first to complete the course, on Cheers in 1982. Rosemary Henderson, a 51-year-old grandmother, finished fifth on Fiddlers Pike in 1994. Carrie Ford will be trying to win this time aboard Forest Gunner.

MOVIES: Aldaniti’s emotional 1981 success inspired the movie ‘Champions’. John Hurt portrayed Bob Champion, who fought back from cancer to land the National on a horse who overcame career-threatening injury himself.

NICKEL: Nickel Coin was the last mare to win the Grand National, in 1951. Closest to scoring for the fairer sex in recent years have been Dubacilla and Ebony Jane, fourth in 1995 and 1994 respectively, and Auntie Dot, third in 1991.

OUTSIDERS: Four horses have won the race at odds of 100-1, Tipperary Tim (1928), Gregalach (1929), Caughoo (1947) and Foinavon (1967).

RED RUM: No horse can match Red Rum’s Grand National record. Winner of the race in 1973 and 1974, he was second the next two years before his historic third victory in 1977. After his retirement on the eve of the National in 1978, he regularly led the parade of runners before the start. He died in 1995 and is buried by the winning post at Aintree.

VOLUPTUARY: Voluptuary, bred by Queen Victoria, had never jumped a fence before winning the National in 1884. He ended his career clearing a water jump night after night in the Grand National scene of the play ‘Prodigal Daughter’.

WEDDINGS: Aintree racecourse is now licensed for wedding ceremonies. Couples can tie the knot in the Valentine suite of the Queen Mother stand before moving on to the Becher suite for a wedding breakfast, with the whole site available for memorable photographs.

YOUNGEST: Bruce Hobbs was the youngest jockey to win the National, scoring on Battleship in 1938 at the age of 17. Oldest successful rider was 48-year-old Dick Saunders on Grittar in 1982. Tim Durant was the oldest jockey to complete the course, partnering Highlandie in 1968 at the age of 68.

ZONGALERO: When Zongalero finished a length-and-a-half second to Rubstic in the 1979 National he completed an unhappy hat-trick. He had also been runner-up in the Mackeson Gold Cup and Massey-Ferguson Gold Cup and ended the season without a win to his name.

FUNDAMENTALIST: Has recaptured something reasonably close to his best form in the twilight of his career. However, a long season may begin to take its effect. 3 (50/1)

BUTLER’S CABIN: Irish National winner who was favourite for the race at the start of the season. A couple of lacklustre runs have not bolstered confidence but his stable have been quiet and he will be trained to the minute. 7 (16/1)

SLIM PICKINGS: Third last year when looking all over the winner before he didn’t quite get home. A little higher in the weights but has had a satisfactory preparation and sure to be thereabouts. 7 (12/1)

CHELSEA HARBOUR: Loads to like about his win under a big weight at Punchestown in February and enjoyed a lovely prep for Aintree when staying on nicely over an inadequate trip last time out. The right sort of age, virtually guaranteed to stay and any cut in the ground in his favour. 8 (16/1)

VODKA BLEU: Talented type and has looked reformed in blinkers of late. Hard to see him truly getting this marathon trip, however, and passed over. 5 (33/1)

L’AMI: Has tumbled in the ratings and ran well for a long way last year before finishing 10th. Smashing run at Cheltenham last time and merits serious respect. 7 (33/1)

SNOWY MORNING: Second to Denman at Cheltenham last year and all the rage in the ante-post markets a while ago. But his stock rather plummeted when running a lifeless sort of race at Fairyhouse and has not always convinced with his jumping. 6 (20/1)

BEWLEYS BERRY: Has shown a real liking for the daunting Aintree fences and fell at the second Becher’s 12 months ago when still going well. Must lump more weight this time though and suspicion his chance has gone. 7. (16/1)

CONTRABAND: Used to be smart but not now. 1 (500/1)

McKELVEY: Ran a race full of bravery last year to chase home Silver Birch as he had gone lame in the last 100 yards. Just had two runs since, both coming recently over hurdles, and has to prove the old ability is still there. 6 (20/1)

the Grand National . . .

Shop tills ring to Call of the Wild

■ ANIMAL ANTHEM . . . Brenda and Paul Oakley-Carter with their charity CD.

A CD produced to help preserve critically endangered animal species is hitting the shelves of local shops.

Call of the Wild was created by Brenda and Paul Oakley-Carter, of Boyton Close, Haverhill, with singer Paul setting to music a poem written by Brenda's father Ted Carter, who lives in Scotland. Local companies rallied round to help them, with Terry McGerty at Printwise printing the covers, another anonymous benefactor supplying labels, Pure Energy copying the CDs and STP donating 1,000 blank CD disks.

Brenda said the help from local companies meant the CD was better quality and had a professional cover with the words inside – and more money went to the charities.

The CDs are £2.50 each with all profits going to the David Shepherd Wildlife Foundation and the Born Free Foundation.

They can be bought at Haverhill Library, The Gallery in Lower Downs Slade, Ellis Bakery and Record Pedlar in Queen Street, Tony Strowger, Hendersons and the Arts Centre

The song can also be downloaded from Paul's website www.paul-oakley.com/cotw.php for 99p.

Racist bullying reports up 40 per cent

RACISM is on the rise in Suffolk schools, according to a shocking new report.

The number of complaints shot up by 40 per cent from 433 in 2005/06 to 606 in 2006/07, and the number of schools experiencing problems rose from 125 to 152 over the same period.

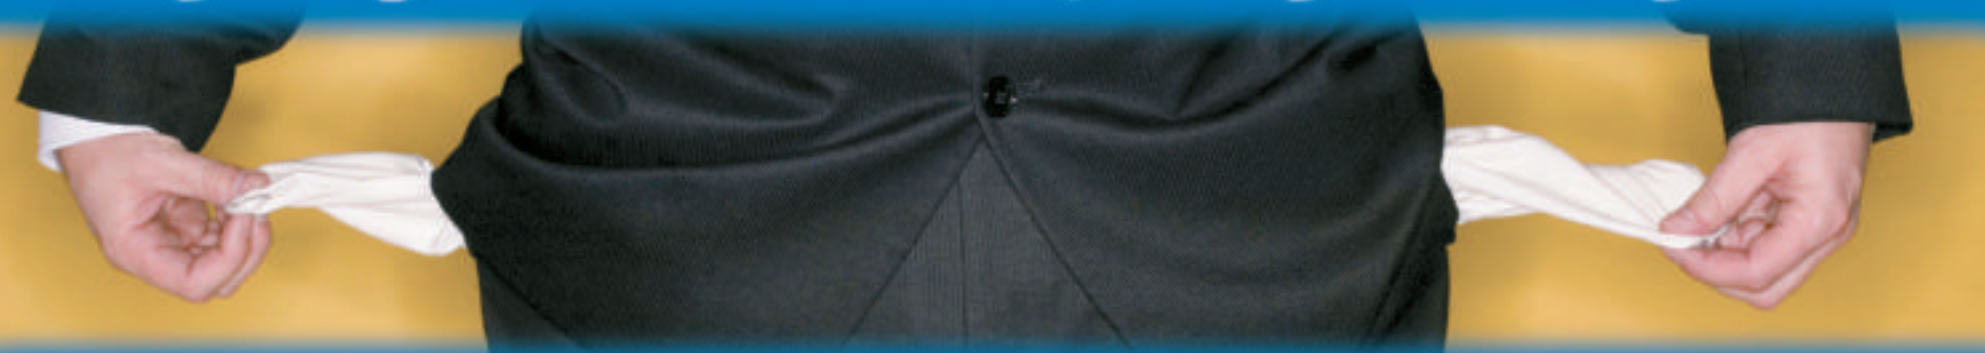

Suffolk County council blamed the increase on more "rigorous" reporting of complaints – but the Ipswich and Suffolk Council for Racial Equality (ISCRE) disputed this, saying that many incidents still go unreported.

Jane Basham, the director of ISCRE, said: "The significant increase in racist incidents in schools is of very real concern and it has such a negative impact on young children."

"ISCRE recognises that good work is going on in some schools but much more needs to be done."

From pregnant teen to pretty flamingoes

WINNER of Best Comedy Film and Best Writer at the Critics Choice Awards, Juno (12A) is showing tonight and Saturday, April 5, at the Haverhill Arts Centre at 7.45pm. When a bright teenager finds herself pregnant, she starts searching for the "perfect" adoptive parents for her unborn child, but things are far from straightforward. Blowing the Blues tomorrow at 8pm, showcases the dynamic new teaming of Paul Jones, the 1960's rock icon previously of Manfred Mann, the Manfreds and later his own Blues Band, and ultra-cool Digby Fairweather's Half Dozen, who worked with George Melly until his death in 2007. Paul, legendary for hits such as 5-4-3-2-1, Doo Wah Diddy Diddy, Pretty Flamingo and I've Been a Bad Bad Boy!, joins Digby for an evening that celebrates both his hits and exciting new arrangements. No Country for Old Men (15), directed by the Coen brothers and awarded an Oscar for Best Picture, is showing on Tuesday, April 8, and Thursday, April 10, at 7.45pm. When a Vietnam veteran discovers $2 million while wandering through the aftermath of a drug deal gone horribly awry, his decision to abscond with the cash sets off a violent chain reaction in this brilliantly executed film, starring Josh Brolin, Javier Bardem, Tommy Lee Jones and Woody Harrelson. Don't Touch the Axe (PG) with English subtitles, is adapted from the Balzac novella The Duchess de Langeais and is showing on Wednesday at 7.45pm. The story begins as grieving General Armand de Montriveau arrives at a Majorcan church to speak with

French nun Antoinette de Langeais, a woman he once loved dearly but eventually lost. If you fancy an evening of rock and roll, blues, soul, and country music, blended with anecdotes gleaned from playing at Buckingham Palace, with the Beatles and the Rolling Stones, plus 28 world tours and numerous TV performances, then The Barron Knights are for you. Prodigy pulls out all the stops for charity show

By Jo Deeks

HIGHLY acclaimed Japanese clarinettist Anna Hashimoto will join professional orchestra, the Arnold Sinfonia, in a special charity performance at the Haverhill Arts Centre on Sunday.

The soloist will join the town's own group and its conductor, Kevin Hill, for the concert, which begins at 7.30pm and contains some true gems.

The programme includes: Variations on a Theme of Tchaikovsky by Arensky, Sibelius' Romance, Plunk, Plunk! by Leroy Anderson, Clarinet Concerto No. 1 (Malcolm Arnold) and Serenade for Strings (Tchaikovsky).

The proceeds from this concert will be donated to the Weekly News' St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal.

The St Edmund's based centre was founded to give specialist support and comfort to terminally-ill patients. The Weekly News has recently launched an appeal for funds to provide nursing care and support, and other treatments and therapies, for patients in their own with the English Chamber Orchestra. She was the winner of the Parthenon Tama Prize earlier that year at the Japan Clarinet Competition. From a total of 170 entries – with no age limits – she was also the youngest participant. In 2003 Anna came first and won all three special prizes at the Japan Clarinet Society's Young Clarinettist Competition. She studied at the Junior Department of the Royal College of Music, where she was awarded the Else and Leonard Cross Memorial Scholarship and the Esther Coleman Prize. Anna has performed at the Wigmore Hall on numerous occasions and at the Cadogan Hall in the presence of Princess Alexandra. At a gala concert with Princess Caroline of Monaco at the British Embassy in Paris, she performed Mozart's Clarinet Quintet. Tickets cost £10, with concessions at £6 and £2, and are available at the door or in advance by telephoning Haverhill Arts Centre on (01440) 714140. Folklore from the Fens

WEIRD and wonderful tales from the Fens will be performed at the Round Church in Cambridge on Friday. Folk – Tales From a Fenland Village is the latest production from Cambridge’s Horseshoe Theatre Company and Young Actors Company. “It is based on a book called Cambridgeshire Customs and Folklore by a lady called Enid Porter who founded the Folk Museum,” explains director

Holly Race. “It’s a very large tome but once you get into it, the stories in there are very interesting. “The young actors have been very enthusiastic, once you tell them the stories in a way that isn’t from a big old book. “They got very inspired by walking around the folk museum and by the objects and the stories there.” The production is at 7.30pm. Tickets are £4-£6. To book call (01223) 359750.

Scottish first lady's presidential appeal

By Nik Shelton

SCOTTISH singer-songwriter KT Tunstall plays Cambridge's Corn Exchange on Sunday. She launched her solo career with her first album Eye to the Telescope released in 2004. Packed full of radio friendly hits like Suddenly I See and Other Side of the World and garnering a Mercury Music Prize nomination, the album turned her into a household name. In America her career was given an unexpected boost when American Idol contestant Katherine McPhee covered her track Black Horse and the Cherry Tree on the show. The single immediately jumped up the billboard charts as a result, but it wasn't enough to change her opinion of reality TV. "I don't have a television, partly because I can't stomach reality TV. I find it really disturbing and mind-numbingly dull. She adds: "It clogs up an already suffocated market for people who are already writing their own stuff and it's breeding a fashion among younger people to just get famous any way they can." Her music's connection with the American public didn't end there though and most recently she has been heard as the backdrop to Hilary Clinton's campaign for the Democrat presidential candidacy. "Yeah, she's using Suddenly I See as her campaign song. There wasn't a formal request but I could easily have called up and expressed displeasure, however I didn't because I'm all right with it. "It's a little bit scary having my songs in the American political arena, especially when I'm not American but I'm desperate to see America with a Democratic Government. I know that Barack Obama has actually used the song a couple of times as well." When she made her first album as an unknown artist she was signed to a small subsidiary label and was given free rein without record industry bosses looming over her. Not so the second time around with Drastic Fantastic which was released in September last year. She said: "The first album was a very deliberate attempt at making something very traditional and singer songwriter-based. "But with this second album I really wanted to explore some of my interests in people like Bowie and The Flaming Lips, much more theatrical character-filled musicians that I love." ■ KT Tunstall plays Cambridge's Corn Exchange on Sunday.

Honda's grin-inducing S2000

NO, your eyes do not deceive you, this is a road test of a Honda S2000 – now effectively a new car.

Much of what is on show remains the same. Owners get leather seats, a radio/CD player, alloy wheels, driver and passenger airbags and, most importantly, the same amazing engine. And oh what an engine it is.

The 2.0-litre petrol unit has four cylinders – the same as many family cars and small executive saloons engines. There though, the similarities end. The red line for example sits just under 9,000 revs. That's approaching motorbike revolutions per minute – practically unheard of in a car. Most diesel engines have a red line at half that figure while most petrols hit the limiter at about 6-7,000. When the S2000's VTEC unit reaches these revs, it's just getting going.

Performance figures from the loony engine are a power output of 237bhp which creates a top speed of 150mph and a 0-60mph dash is seen off in 5.6 seconds. The engine is only part of the story, however. What has been modified is the suspension – previously the biggest flaw. Before these revisions, if you drove an S2000 in anything other than perfect weather and clean, dry roads, you had to be careful – very careful. The handling was poised, rather precariously, on a knife-edge and on greasy roads the rear could snap round, with only the smartest drivers able to catch it.

Now, Honda has added thicker anti-roll bars, fiddled with the dampers and up-rated the suspension. The result is a hugely inspiring sports car. Put it into a bend and it will let you push towards the limits. When you get close to losing control, it tells you by giving too much feedback and progressively understeering which is correctable by gently lifting off.

Don't get me wrong though, as

■ CONFIDENCE-INSPIRING . . . the Honda S2000 GT.

Honda hasn't completely tamed its animal. It will still kick the tail out if accelerating around a junction too quickly from low revs but this is not "meet your maker" oversteer.

This confidence-inspiring handling is in keeping with the rest of the car, especially when you consider it's a thoroughbred sports car. The seats are comfortable and hold you well. The radio/CD system has some excellent speakers, some of which are fitted in the roll-hoops right behind your head, giving a surround-sound experience. The plastics used are of obvious quality and the switches and dials, all driver-orientated, clunk and click with bomb-proof quality.

BASICALLY . . .

A good sports car made better, this is a real example of a roadster that you can live with every day.

Retro-fit parking sensor launched

■ PARKING AID . . . from JML Direct.

PARKING in a tight spot is all well and good if your car is fitted with the latest sensor technology.

Those of us with older models can now thank JML for its Parking Sensor which alerts you when next door's Mondeo is too close for comfort!

Parking has recently become more of an issue in built-up urban areas – we now park in tiny spaces. The JML Parking Sensor will ensure you don't damage your car or other parked cars while you squeeze in to those ever-so-small gaps.

It's easy to install and remove – there's no need for drilling or damaging your car. Simply plug in to your cigarette adaptor or install three AA batteries. The unit beeps if you are close to another vehicle or obstacle, with the beeping rate increasing as you get closer, warning you to stop. Once you are parked the Parking Sensor turns itself off.

Now you can park with confidence and peace of mind with the JML Parking Sensor only £29.99, available from JML Direct TV on Channel 631, by phone on 0871 2222 631 and www.jml-direct.com

From Housing to Supported Living, Granta has long developed specialist accommodation for those needing care and assistance. Over 400 care staff work across the Eastern Region, complementing their professionalism and integrity with an innate ability to listen to what each resident has to say, whilst also meeting their needs 24 hours a day.

PROJECT WORKER (REF: 027)

£15,009 - £16,296 PA DEPENDING ON EXPERIENCE AND NVQ
QUALIFICATIONS (PAY AWARD PENDING)
BURWELL, CAMBRIDGE

With dignity and choice high on your list of priorities, you'll carry out a variety of care duties for residents, and help assess their individual needs. This will involve assisting with living skills – including meal preparation and intimate personal care tasks – as well as acting as keyworker to certain members, who you'll occasionally accompany on excursions away from the project.

If you can communicate well with others, and have a positive attitude and reliable disposition, we would like to hear from you. Experience of working with people with care needs, in either a paid or voluntary capacity, would be a plus, as would basic computer skills.

The role involves moving and handling duties (for which training is given) and working a rota system (usually a flexible shift pattern including weekends, and some sleep-in duties).

For an informal discussion about this post, please contact Vanessa or Jan on 01638 743764 or 743931.

Visit www.grantahousing.org.uk to apply online or download an application pack. You can also view full details of staff benefits. Alternatively, you can contact our 24-hr jobline on (01223) 265157 or Minicom: (01223) 702237. Please quote the relevant job reference.

CVs not accepted. Application packs to be requested by 8.4.08 and returned by 14.4.08. Interview date: 24.4.08.

Good enough to play with the big boys?

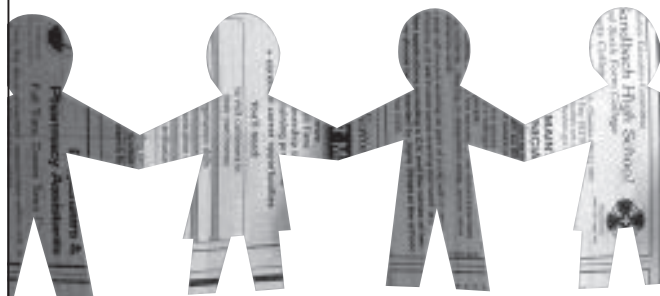

Cambridge Consultants has a world-class reputation. Some might even say that our wireless engineers are second to none. We work with the best and we only recruit the best. Sure, that sounds more than a little arrogant (although our corporate culture is anything but – most of our engineers are modest and unassuming). But the truth is we have a track record for creating more than our fair share of world firsts.

We currently have a number of vacancies for seriously good wireless engineers. Engineers that feel comfortable working as part of a team with outstanding skill.

So what's in it for you? Well, we offer you a truly stimulating environment, brilliant colleagues, interesting and varied work, career progression if you prove yourself, and a great remuneration package to boot.

To find out whether we have the job for you see www.jobs-in-wireless.co.uk. Alternatively call Alison Hughes on 01223 420024 for a no commitment, informal, chat.

BOXING

A Starie night for Haverhill fighters

TWENTY youngsters and a similar number of seniors left Haverhill Amateur Boxing Club brimming with excitement and enthusiasm for the sport after a visit from former British and Commonwealth super-middleweight champion David Starie.

The decorated amateur and two-time world title challenger, proved an inspirational visitor as he discussed his career and the keys to his notable success.

As a fighter, who won two senior ABA titles, beat Clinton Woods and fought Joe Calzaghe – both current world champions – Starie defied the accepted wisdom that provincial roots in Bury St Edmunds would limit his horizons. A myth Starie, now a full time fire-fighter in his hometown, was eager to dispel to his attentive young audience.

“You don’t have to be from London or Manchester, every one of you can achieve what I have in your own career,” he told his audience.

“Just work hard, listen to your coaches and enjoy your boxing, nothing is beyond you and don’t let anyone tell you any different.”

Starie also brought along the belts he won during his distinguished career, including the historic Lonsdale belt.

These were available for members to touch and lift aloft.

The Haverhill club continues to grow in popularity and impact, with sessions on Tuesdays and Thursdays for juniors and seniors attracting more than 40 regulars.

A spokesman said: “In the climate of disenchantment among youngsters and the much-publicised lack of discipline and respect some demonstrate, boxing clubs like the one in Haverhill represent a haven of hope, structure and direction.

“Like David Starie, coaches Paul Byrne, Jason Marks and Stuart Hall offer their time and experience for free and welcome new members regardless of their experience, age or fitness.”

GOLF

Wait proves worthwhile as Bates secures another trophy

THE last heat of the current series of the IFF Challenge at Haverhill Golf Club saw Paul Marks, Eric Bates and Peter Mercer qualify for the grand final, which was held last Wednesday when the year’s winners met for a winner take all event.

Despite the holding fairways, the greens were in top condition and it took a superlative effort from the eventual winner, Eric Bates, to capture his second mid-week trophy in succession.

Returning a three-under-par score of 67, Bates had an anxious wait as a number of players just failed to beat his round.

Duncan Galloway came close with a 68 and this was matched by Colin Rudge, who can rue mini disasters at the 12th and 15th, when the trophy was his for the taking.

Spittle, who eagled the par-four fifth hole.

Leading scores: E Bates 67, D Galloway, C Rudge 68, S Plotowski, D Spittle 69, D Parsons, K Ward 71, P Houchen 72, J Thomson, D Cohen 73, P Mercer 74, R Claydon 76, B Shuter 78, D Chapman 79, D Simpson 80, J Stokes 83.

■ Haverhill Seniors played two matches at Coupals Road during the week, which ended in victory over Colne Valley and defeat by Saffron Walden, in a match that was shortened due to poor weather.

■ The ladies’ March Stableford went to countback with Jackie Condon edging out Anna Fairhead. They both returned 35 points, which was four ahead of third-placed Diane Williams.

■ Sunday morning saw the Rosebowl finalists competing to be “Number One” weekend medallist of the year.

Eighteen winners from the previous 12 months were led in by David Pipe, who at four-under-par, took the overall honours. Unlucky to be the losing finalist two weeks earlier in the mid-week final on countback, Pipe retained his form and was one shot clear of Cliff Ryan and Scott Turner.

Leading scores: D Pipe 66, C Ryan, S Turner 67, D Cohen, R Rudge 68, S Plotowski 71, J Mulley 73, N Saville, R Curl 74, G Baird, E Baker, J Thomson 76, A Softley, J Fox 78, M Robinson 80, G Cox 81, O Longley 90.

■ Gerry Scott created a little piece of club history on Saturday when his team became the first to capture the Past Captains’ Cup for a second time.

The event was for past club captains and three guest players with the best three scores at each hole counting towards their stableford points.

Scott’s 114 total, battling against the strong south-westerly wind, was launched right from the opening hole, where they achieved two birdies and a par and there was an even better result at the second.

One player could only record a par and could not get on to the card, as all the other three knocked in birdie putts.

YOUTH FOOTBALL

Eight-goal Gunners go on merry way

Linton Aztecs U10 B 3
Grampian Gunners U10 8

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 10E

GRAMPIAN turned in a fine performance to notch their fifth straight win. Despite the emphatic margin of victory, they also found Linton’s keeper in great form, saving strikes from the classy trio of Jack Davis, Lewis Whiting and Toby Daly. In addition, Grampian hit the post four times and the bar three times as they kept up the relentless pressure. It was Linton who took the lead. Grampian keeper Lewis Knightly made an heroic point blank block, but could not prevent the ball from trickling over the line.

Mitchell Forshaw equalised following a rebound off the post before Linton scored their second from a corner. The second half was another onslaught from the Gunners, but Linton scored first to go 3-1 up.

Man-of-the-match George Mustoe set up Josh Matthewson to tap in, then Jamie Lingard fired in from 25 yards. Jack Ferguson matched that effort from the left wing with 20 yarder.

Lingard and Matthewson both got their second shooting low across the keeper. Bailey Cassidy got in on the act with a cracking strike from outside the box before setting up Forshaw who got the eighth. Grampian manager Neil Mustoe said: “It was an amazing performance to come from 3-1 down.

“We are on fire at the moment, five wins, with 38 goals scored and only four conceded.”

Huntingdon Rowdies U14 2
Grampian Gunners U14 0

CAMBS COLTS LEAGUE, DIVISION 14A

HUNTINGDON remained top after beating Grampian with two second half goals on Sunday.

The scores were level at the break due to good Grampian defending and excellent goalkeeping from Baldwin.

An goal early in the second period, gave the home side the lead.

Grampian battled hard, but another strike 10 minutes from time finally killed off any hopes they had of a revival.

Gunners manager Simon Youngs said: “We tried hard, but they wanted it more in certain areas.”

Wilbraham Warriors U11 0
West Watting U11 9

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 11A

BILLY Bush hits four as Watting went on another goal scoring spree.

Right from the start, they took the game to Wilbraham, whose keeper who kept them out for 20 minutes.

But, once the deadlock was broken, the floodgates opened. Bush scored two in 60 seconds and Lambert made it 3-0 on 24 minutes

Three minutes later, Scotton grabbed the the fourth before Ankers finished a goalmouth scramble for the fifth. Lambert scored again on the stroke of half time to make it 6-0.

The second half saw Watting continue to press with Scotton adding the seventh before Bush completed the scoring with his third and fourth strikes.

Westley aims to follow Cook's recipe

CAPTAINING his country at the Under-19s World Cup has given Tom Westley a taste for the high life.

Forced to step into the breach after skipper Alex Wakely suffered an injury at last month's tournament in Malaysia, the Saffron Walden all-rounder led England to victory with a man-of-the-match performance over Sri Lanka.

And the Weston Colville teenager has just returned from the United Arab Emirates where he played for Essex in the Pro-ARCH Trophy and came face-to-face with a national hero. But far from being overawed, the 19-year-old sensation gave Andrew Flintoff plenty to think about.

And with all these experiences under his belt, Westley is keen to give the likes of Ravi Bopara, Grant Flower and Jason Gallian a run for their money at Essex this season. He said: "I played the first three games out in the UAE and it was great to bowl against Freddie Flintoff. I thought I did quite well."

"When I was standing at my mark and looking down towards the crease and saw him standing there, I was thinking 'wow, he's won the Ashes'. It was quite a strange feeling, but it was something I really revelled in and, even though I only bowled a few overs, I wasn't very expensive."

"And it was an honour to captain England at the World Cup and a really fantastic experience."

"Now I'm looking to have a good pre-season, which will stand me in good stead for playing with either the firsts or the seconds."

Westley admits it will be tough to regularly force his way into his county's first team as competition for places is strong at the County Ground.

But he is up for the challenge and hopes to play in Essex's clash against Cambridge UCCE at Fenner's on April 12, having made his first-class debut in the same fixture last year.

And advice from club colleague and international star

Alastair Cook has given him extra confidence in his own ability.

Westley said: "I'd like to play in that game and get some runs and have a bowl. If I'm given a chance then I'll try to take it with both hands."

"Alastair Cook has told me to be positive and take my chance, so I'll do my best to stay in the first-team if I can get in it."

"This is my final year at England Under-19 level and then I'll just be on the county circuit, hoping to represent England at national academy level or with the A team."

"But I need to be in the Essex first-team to have a chance of doing that and that's what I want to achieve."

FOOTBALL

Two in the frame to be Taylor's successor

HAVERHILL Rovers have drawn up a short list to replace Steve Taylor as first-team manager.

Rovers' chairman Steve Brown confirmed this week that the club's committee have made contact with two possible candidates to fill the vacant spot, but insisted they would not be rushing their decision. Brown said: "We've got a few people in mind and have put out the calls and are waiting to hear now."

"We have advertised the job, but we've got a shortlist and have made contact, but we're still going to take our time to make sure we get the right decision."

Haverhill's game against Ipswich Wanderers was washed out last Friday night as the wet weather deemed the Hamlet Croft pitch unplayable. However, club captain Marcus Hunt has declared he is willing to stay in caretaker charge of the Suffolk club while a new boss is found, which will mean he will be in charge for Saturday's trip to Ridgions League, Premier Division champions Wroxham.

Brown added: "Marcus has said he's prepared to stay in charge until we find someone new, so he will carry on until then." Meanwhile, Dan Pilcher has become the latest player to leave Rovers after he completed a switch to title hopefuls Needham Market.

Claydon's penalties all in vain

TWO penalties from Chris Claydon's boot were not enough for Haverhill as they conceded a late try and went down to a narrow defeat at Broadland in their Eastern Counties, Division Two, match on Saturday. Winger Jamie Chopper made his first-team debut for the visitors and they took a six-point lead thanks to Claydon's kicking. But the hosts reduced the arrears

Broadland 10 Haverhill 6
EASTERN COUNTIES LEAGUE, DIVISION TWO

with a penalty of their own, before touching down and adding the conversion to leave Haverhill to return from Norfolk empty handed. Last season's skipper Paul Bergin said: "I felt we had a strong game throughout, and defended very well, and were unlucky to lose it in the final stages."
